A STATE CONVENTION.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., August 29, 1882.—The epublican. State Central Committee having Republican. State Central committee having, by a majority vote at its meeting in the City of St. Louis on August 24, refused to issee a call for a Republican State Convention, and having thereby denied to the Republican party of the State the right to assemble in council on this, the eve of a general election, it has renounced its duty to the party and forfeited all claim as a committee to the recognition of the party.

The duty thus renounced having reverted to the hands of that higher power from which it was derived, the members of the party in their sovereign capacity, they do, now, by and in the name of the Republicans of Missouri, in order to maintain an organization placed in proparity by the act of usurpation of the late State Committee, to be held in the City of Jefferson, on Wednesday, the 20th day of September next, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose, if the Convention shall so determine, of nominating exadidates for Judge of the Supreme Court, Superintendent of Schools and Italicoad Commissioner, and for the purpose of electing a new State Central Committee, and transacting such other business as may properly come before it.

CALL A REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

All electors, irrespective of past political differences, who will abide by and support the action of this Convention are requested to join in electing delegates to said State Convention.

The Chairmen of the various county committees, in cases where the holding of a State Convention has net already been anticipated, and representation therein has not otherwise been provided for, are requested to call meetings to be held at their respective Court House, on Saturday, the 18th day of September, at 3 o'clock F. M., for the election of delegates to the said State Convention. Should the Chairman of a county committee decline to make such a call, then any member or members of such committee will have power to act. Should no call be made by either of these means, then the kepublican electors of the county may meet at the clect the number of delegates to the Said State Convention while herein named, and proceed to the said of any one or more of their number at the time and place herein named, and proceed to the county while he could not to which the county may be entitled.

The basis of representation in the said State Convention will be one delegate for each 200 votes or fraction of 150 of the votes cast for the Garfield electors in 1880; provided that each county shall be entitled to at least one delegate.

N. C. Burch, of Jefferson City, having consented to act as Secretary until the assembling of the Convention, all communications in regard thereto will be addressed to him.

Under the above call, Holt county will be entitled to five delegates.

Rallroad corporations are quasi public corporations dedicated to the public use. **
They cave been created for the purpose of exercising the functions and performing the duties of common carriers. Their duties and liabilities are dained by law. In necepting their charters they becessarily accept them with all the duties and liabilities amesed—that is to say, they construct the roads contemplated by their several charters; to keep them in good sondition; equip them with suitable regiling stack and sale machinary; employ-skilled and trustworthy laborers; provide suitable means of access to and egress from their trains; erect depots and designate stopping places wherever the public necessities require them; supply to the extent of their resources necessary and adequate facilities for the transaction of all the business offered; deal fairly and impartially with their pairons; keep pace with improvements in rallroad machinery and adapt their service to the varying necessities and improved methods of doing business.
